TFL's hottest teams are Pee Wee bound

The Sweeney Bowl Tournament begins this week.

Yawn.

Yeah, maybe the six teams battling for the T. Rex are not entering the playoffs on a hot streak. OK, let's be honest. They are as cold as the stares Steve Katz gets from women at a singles bar.

Consider:

■ Denver was threatening to run away with the T. Rex with an 8-1 record. Now, the Pyles have lost five straight games.

■ Lackawanna looked unstoppable at one point this season and also had an 8-1 record. Now, the Lancers have lost three of their last five and haven't reached 40 or more points in the past five weeks.

■ Alaska lost two of its final three games to "win" the Barbarino Division title, mainly due to Denver's meltdown.

■ Flint, the regular-season champ, has a yawner 2-2 record over its last four games, with a "high" game of 43 last week in that span.

■ Even the Dutch Harbor Dawgs, who had been very hot, head into the playoffs on a bit of a downer. Now, the Dawgs must rebound from their final regular-season game in which they scored only 19 points.

So try and pick a favorite to win the T. Rex. Maybe it's scoop

bias

Anchorage. The Kitchen, the same mediocre franchise that rode Jerry Rice's back to the 1995 championship, appear it might do it again this year behind Marshall Faulk.

Nate Sagan's team has won five straight after opening the year at 4-6. The Kitchen has scored 40 or more points in all but one of the games in its winning streak.

On the other hand, maybe everybody should be talking about the Pee Wee Bowl Tournament. It is where the hottest teams are.

Consider:

■ Limerick rebounded from a dismal 2-7 start to win four of its final five games. The Loons are averaging 48.1 points per game in its last six games.

■ Willow enters the consolation tournament with a three-game winning streak and is averaging 52 points per game in that streak.

And the hottest team in the league right now is the Dugway franchise owned by Ken Sain. The Experiments have scored 301 points in their last five games, a 60.2

per game average. Yes, the Tubes lost two of those games. But their opponents had to score 61 and 64 points to beat them.

We asked Scott Lacy if any team in TFL history has ever averaged better than 60 points per game over a five-game span before.

"Uh, I'll have to get back to you — Sleepless in Seattle is about to begin," Lacy said.

The champs

Flint did win the regular-season title with its win over East Hartford last weekend. It was the Bison's second RS title. The first came during Don Carlock's miracle 1994 season.

Dutch Harbor held off Lackawanna and Dugway despite its 19-point effort against Willow to win the points-scoring title with 630 points. The Dawgs also won the points title in 1997. The Lancers were second with 610.

Other notables

Arctic finished another bad campaign at 4-10. However, the Gators had 624 points scored against them. That would be the highest in every season except 2000.

Lackawanna finished with only 413 points scored against them. That is the lowest since 1994 (before the NFL changed passing rules in 1995 and dramatically increased scoring).
